Headline:
Cloud clears to give way to sunshine, but feeling fresh.

Today:
Frost and fog patches in the west will clear through the morning under clear skies. In the south and east cloud cover retreats into the afternoon, leaving behind a sunny and fine day for all. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear skies in the evening, allowing temperatures to drop. Some low cloud and fog developing overnight, as well as a chance of some frost patches. Remaining dry. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Sunday:
Mostly dry with sunny spells but noticeably cooler. Turning increasingly cloudy through the afternoon and windy, with a band of rain, followed by wintry showers, pushing south in the evening. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A period of unsettled and cold weather, with widespread frosts each night. Snow showers with strong winds and a risks of coastal gales Monday, easing Tuesday. Slightly less cold Wednesday.
